STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The banking system in India has achieved significant growth in terms of average population per bank office, resulting in reducing the levels of credit gaps in the economy. But in spite of such growth many poor households do not still have access to basic financial services such as savings, credit and money transfer. The financial exclusion faced by poor people results in discrimination and denial of equal opportunities to them.

2. There are certain Non-Governmental Organisations, Societies, Trusts and Co-operative Societies operating in the micro financial sector that are engaged in providing credit and other financial services to the economically active low-income people especially women, poor households and their micro enterprises. But the financial activities undertaken by such organisations lack a formal statutory framework.

3. It is, therefore, considered necessary to enact a new law for the development and regulation of the micro financial sector. The salient features of the Bill are as follows:

(a) entrust the function of development and regulation of the micro financial sector to the National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (National Bank);

(b) define various entities engaged in the activity of micro finance such as co-operative societies, mutual benefit societies or mutually aided societies registered under any State enactments or multi-State co-operative societies registered under the Multi-State Co-operative Societies Act, 2002, societies registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860 or any other State enactments governing such societies and a trust created under the Indian Trust Act, 1882 or public trust registered under any State enactments, that will be governed by the regulatory framework proposed to be set up;

(c) define various categories of beneficiaries of micro financial services as eligible clients including Self Help Groups (SHGs) or joint liability groups of such eligible clients;

(d) provide for extending micro financial services to eligible clients by way of financial assistance subject to ceilings to be prescribed and such other financial services as may be specified by the National Bank;

(e) provide for acceptance of thrift, i.e., savings of eligible clients other than in the form of current account or demand deposit account by micro finance organisations registered by the National Bank, subject to such terms and conditions as may be prescribed;

(f) provide for constitution of Micro Finance Development Council to advise the National Bank on formulation of policies, schemes and other measures required in the interest of orderly growth and development of the micro finance sector;

(g) provide for registration of Micro Finance Organisations to be permitted to collect thrift from individual members of SHGs or through a group mechanism;

(h) provide for creation of a reserve fund and maintenance of accounts and periodical returns to be submitted by micro finance organisations;

(i) provide for functions and powers of the National Bank in relation to thrift services and micro financial services;

(j) provide for constitution of Micro Finance Development and Equity Fund to be utilised for the development of micro finance sector;

(k) empower the National Bank to frame a scheme for appointment of one or more Micro Finance Ombudsman for settlement of disputes between eligible clients and micro finance organisations;

(l) provide for offences and penalties for non-compliance with the regulatory requirements of the Bill;

(m) to empower the Central Government to prescribe Rules for carrying out the purposes of the Bill;

(n) to empower the National Bank to make regulations with the previous approval of the Central Government for carrying out the purposes of the Bill.

4. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objects.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Traditional norms and values of the Indian society laid stress on providing care for the elderly. However, due to withering of the joint family system, a large number of elderly are not being looked after by their family. Consequently, many older persons, particularly widowed women are now forced to spend their twilight years all alone and are exposed to emotional neglect and to lack of physical and financial support. This clearly reveals that ageing has become a major social challenge and there is a need to give more attention to the care and protection for the older persons. Though the parents can claim maintenance under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, the procedure is both time-consuming as well as expensive. Hence, there is a need to have simple, inexpensive and speedy provisions to claim maintenance for parents.

2. The Bill proposes to cast an obligation on the persons who inherit the property of children or their aged relatives to maintain such aged relatives and also proposes to make provisions for setting up oldage homes for providing maintenance to the indigent older persons.

The Bill further proposes to provide better medical facilities to the senior citizens and provisions for protection of their life and property.

3. The Bill, therefore, proposes to provide for—

(a) appropriate mechanism to be set up to provide need-based maintenance to the parents and senior citizens;

(b) providing better medical facilities to senior citizens;

(c) for institutionalisation of a suitable mechanism for protection of life and property of older persons;

(d) setting up of oldage homes in every district.

4. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objectives.
